PORTUGAL: Foreign Minister Rui Patricio has expressed impatience with US slowness in getting ready for negotiations on the Azores bases. In preparation for his Washington visit in November, Patricio is pressing for a meeting of economic experts to discuss the type of aid Washington might offer for continued use of the bases. Now that the size of the US package for the bases in Spain has been determined, the Portuguese want action on their request to renew the 1951 agreement. Since 1962 the US has been permitted to continue using the bases pending formal resumption of talks suspended by Lisbon.
